

1.2 Promoting a culture of value and respect for individuals and their communities.

Ensuring that all contributions to class or group discussions are listened to and accorded respect

The teacher accepts the opinions and values the students' comments. They embrace differences rather than conformity.

Establishes an agreed set of rules of behaviour to provide a safe and productive environment.

Establishes a climate where difference of perspective is welcomed and learned from.

Encourages all students, (of different gender, ethnicity or religious affiliation) during topics dealing with contemporary events to contribute.

